

The Economic Ramifications of the U.S. Election

Tuesday 13th November 2012

6:00pm – 7:00pm

OLD 3.21

(LSE Old Building)

Speaker

Robert S. Weiner

Chair

Dr. George Philip

The 2012 US Presidential election has been coined as the world's most expensive election campaign. Having secured a second term in office, Obama will continue seeking growth-jobs and opposing tax breaks for the rich. After all, the US economy has grown under his growth-jobs policies and contract under tax-cuts programmes. Can Obama's victory be considered as a US/worldwide economic omen?

Join LSE IDEAS as we explore The Economic Ramifications of the U.S. Election with Robert S. Weiner, former White House Spokesman, national Democratic strategist and US national newspaper columnist.

LSE IDEAS is a centre for the study of international affairs, diplomacy and grand strategy. Its mission is to use LSE's vast intellectual resources to help train skilled and open-minded leaders and to study international affairs through world-class scholarship and engagement with practitioners and decision-makers. As its name implies, IDEAS aims at understanding how today's world came into being and how it may be changed, in line with LSE's old motto: rerum cognoscere causas - to understand the causes of things.

