

YOU ARE INVITED TO JOIN... SENATOR HILLARY RODHAM CLINTON

And Co-Hosts

Congressman Steny Hoyer

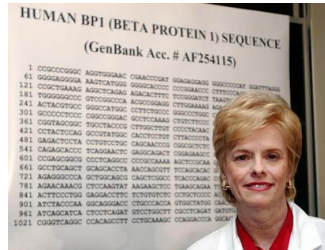

Democratic Whip

Congressman John Conyers, Jr.

Dean, Congressional Black Caucus and Democratic Leader, House Judiciary Committee

Congressman Mike Honda

Vice-Chair, Democratic National Committee

Celebrate the Breakthrough Cancer Discovery by Dr. Patricia Berg, Director of a George Washington University Medical Center Cancer Laboratory, of a gene, BP1, activated in 80% of Breast Cancer tumors and in similar numbers for Prostate Cancer, Ovarian Cancer, and Leukemia, and disproportionately high in African Americans.

Help the Berg Laboratory in its current efforts to develop a suppressor for the gene and a blood test for easier detection as major steps toward prevention, treatment, and a cure for cancers, and to determine the impact of the gene on as many as ten cancers.

AT THE NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CLUB
40 IVY STREET, SE (Townhouse)
WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 2006, from 5:30 to 7:30 PM

Dr. Patricia Berg's significant findings have been reported in virtually all major media including the New York Times, Washington Post and Times, Chicago Tribune and Sun-Times, LA Times, AP, Reuters, CNN, CBS, Fox, and 165 television stories, including many network television and print interviews during and after GWUMC conducted a news conference on her discoveries. Her collaborators and supporters include NIH, NCI, DOD's Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, University of Maryland, Johns Hopkins University, Howard University, Children's National Medical Center, the Susan G. Komen Foundation, and the Susan Love Foundation, in addition to her own GWUMC. (For more details or examples of Dr. Berg's ground-breaking research, journal articles, and selected mainstream media coverage, see <http://www.weinerpublic.com/berg.html>).

DR. BERG IS CURRENTLY ENGAGED IN MAJOR WORK ON A CANCER SUPPRESSOR, TREATMENT, DETECTION, AND DETERMINING THE IMPACT OF HER GENE ON OTHER CANCERS. HER LABORATORY NEEDS ALL OUR HELP TO GENERATE THESE ADDITIONAL BREAKTHROUGHS.

Join Senator Clinton, together with Cong. Hoyer, Cong. Conyers, Cong. Honda (whose wife sadly lost her battle with ovarian cancer), other national leaders and Club members, and cancer survivors and families, and return the enclosed form.

We Hope To See You May 10!
